More New Products for Ruminants from Quality Technology International to be Launched at 2023 World Dairy Expo

Quality Technology International will introduce several new natural animal health products delivering sustainable options for the production, performance, and profitability for dairy producers. QTI is at Booth #TC-653 at the World Dairy Expo to be held October 1-5 in Madison, WI.

“For the second year in a row, QTI is delivering new natural products specifically designed for ruminant health,” according to Troy Lohrmann, President and CEO. “We are partnering with Wisconsin-based Core Functional Ingredients to expand our service to the dairy industry.”

New this year are products containing MCM (mannanase-hydrolyzed copra meal)

- PayBac™ NG3 boosts calves immune health and minimizes post-weaning stress and addresses scours while inhibiting Salmonella
- RumaBac™ which focuses on hind gut health, rumen fermentation and microflora, to boost immune function and milk yield
- MannoBac™ 3B enables dairy cows to mitigate Salmonella and clostridial infection, diarrhea and mastitis

Also new for 2023 is Bioxin™ to maximize nutrient access, agglutinate pathogens, silence toxins and improve immune systems.

Finally, QTI continues its partnership with Nor-Feed, providing dairy producers access to unique, science-based botanical products for greater yields, improved immunity, appetite stimulation and positive impacts to microbiota in calves.
